Opportunity look at women's issues

Welcome departure in SA feminist politics

Putting Women on the Agenda

Edited by Susan Bazilli

PUTTING WOMEN ON THE AGENDA

South Africa’s女性 issues

PUTTING WOMEN ON THE AGENDA

Edited by Susan Bazilli

South Africa’s女性 issues

MESSAGE OR TAKE NOTE: if you work yourselves out of a deadlock and try to get back to the business of democracy-building, keep these queries in mind. The change required is South Africa cannot be brought about by amend, isolated individuals...We can draw on the forms of organisation that the women’s movement has developed which are democratic and non-violent.

“Is it a good enough way to frighten or to foment a revolution in this non-violent way?”

Women look at women’s issues

PUTTING WOMEN ON THE AGENDA

Edited by Susan Bazilli

South Africa’s女性 issues

PUTTING WOMEN ON THE AGENDA

Edited by Susan Bazilli

South Africa’s女性 issues

MESSAGE OR TAKE NOTE: if you work yourselves out of a deadlock and try to get back to the business of democracy-building, keep these queries in mind. The change required is South Africa cannot be brought about by amend, isolated individuals...We can draw on the forms of organisation that the women’s movement has developed which are democratic and non-violent.

“Is it a good enough way to frighten or to foment a revolution in this non-violent way?”

Women look at women’s issues

PUTTING WOMEN ON THE AGENDA

Edited by Susan Bazilli

South Africa’s女性 issues

PUTTING WOMEN ON THE AGENDA

Edited by Susan Bazilli

South Africa’s女性 issues

MESSAGE OR TAKE NOTE: if you work yourselves out of a deadlock and try to get back to the business of democracy-building, keep these queries in mind. The change required is South Africa cannot be brought about by amend, isolated individuals...We can draw on the forms of organisation that the women’s movement has developed which are democratic and non-violent.

“Is it a good enough way to frighten or to foment a revolution in this non-violent way?”

Women look at women’s issues